

Our Services

Holmwood Consulting Limited delivers objective advice and consulting to address the real and differing business issues that clients are facing around the world helping them to resolve their unique challenges. Beyond just informed third party comment, we actively seek to give our clients the real information required to take the critical decisions that move businesses forwards.

Holmwood Consulting Limited helps its clients achieve these clear business goals by flexibly applying the Energy and broader Industry expertise from its principal, and selectively utilising the wide experience and extensive knowledge base of our Associates, who have worked for many years as Directors, senior managers and industry business professionals. We operate in three primary areas:

- Business Advisory and Consultancy
- Energy Market Studies

- Training and Knowledge Transfer and provide high quality, practical consulting advice and tailored training with a strong emphasis on delivering tangible benefits rather than supplying consulting doctrine. We provide assistance for clients to prosper with key services in the focused business areas of:

- Natural Gas
 - LNG
 - Power
 - Future Energies
