

Welcome to our Intellectual Capital page

Through our various international consulting and training activities we are involved in assignments, discussions and decision processes that affect ongoing changes in the global Energy & Utilities industry.

Here you can find details of:

- International News and Media articles concerning or quoting Holmwood Consulting Limited and our Principal
- Our industry insights and commentary in published Articles.

Our Principal is also frequently requested to present our understanding at both public and closed industry events on a worldwide basis.

- Presentations given on key topics over recent years.

As part of this activity and of our involvement in thought leadership and best practice, Holmwood Consulting Limited is actively involved in assisting development of, participating in conferences and contributing to Energy Industry and Management Consulting Events around the World.